

How long are the good people of Kentucky to stand by these night rider outrages that are a shame and a disgrace to the State and a virtual admission to the world that Kentucky is incapable of self government. It seems that the whole state is to be made to suffer the humiliation that is reflected by these lawless acts and not a small portion of her citizenship is put into actual danger of violence by them. All this because of a conflict between two gigantic trusts—the tobacco manufacturers on the one side and the tobacco producers trust on the other. In the passion of conflict between these two interests the rights of others, who may not be interested in the result, are totally disregarded. The time will surely come when the people will call a halt. These midnight marauders who started out under the pretext of fighting the tobacco trust have developed into regular organized bands of kluks who under their cowardly disguises apparently stop at nothing and burn burning, horse whipping and even murder are almost of nightly occurrence in certain sections of the state.

The Legislature the official law making body of our state, is in session and one would naturally look to it for relief or at least for some sign of protest against these outrages, but our worthy legislators are too much occupied with filibustering over the temperance question and the election of a United States Senator to heed the cry of distress from the people in the kluks infested section of the state. Furthermore to judge from the character of some of the proposed measures now before the legislature no relief need be expected from that source. Indeed some of the laws which certain members are seeking to have enacted in connection with this tobacco question, would be about as disturbing as the field operations of the night riders. Unfortunately so many of our legislators owe their election to their sympathy with the growers side of the fight against the tobacco trust that they feel in duty bound to do something to make good their pro election promises. Unless something is done to put a check on the drift of affairs the tobacco industry of Kentucky from being a valuable asset is in danger of becoming a menace to the peace if not to the business interests of the state.

The Kentucky Legislature adjourned from Monday until Thursday out of respect to the memory of Representative Virgil McKnight who died at the Capital Hotel suddenly on Monday morning. McKnight was one of the Democratic members who refused to support Goy Beckman and his death may have some effect on the race for U. S. Senator. A special election will be called in Mason county to elect a successor to Mr. McKnight and a warm contest is looked for owing to the importance of the vote.

Much excitement and a warm time generally is predicted for New Castle on Saturday when there will be a meeting of Equity Society farmers and also one of the anti Equity farmers. Much bitter feeling has been aroused between the two factions. To grow or not to grow tobacco is the question at issue with the sentiment about equally divided.

The Republican State Central Committee has called a State Convention to be held in Louisville May 6, for the purpose of electing delegates to the National Convention. A reorganization of the party machinery will also be made as is the custom every four years.

Everything taken into the stomach is a tally within a certain time. When you feel that your stomach is not in good order, that the food you have eaten is not being digested. Take a good, natural digestant that will do the work the digestive juices are not doing. The best remedy known to day for all stomach troubles is Kodol, which is guaranteed to give prompt relief. It is a natural digestant; it digests what you eat, it is pleasant to take and is sold here by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Smoky Valley.

We are having some very rainy weather.

Tobacco stripping seems to be the order of the day.

Mr. L. M. Homan sold his tobacco to Hays & Berkhed for 75 cents.

Mr. A. O. Anderson sold his tobacco to Goodlett. Price 95c.

Mr. J. A. Hardin sold his tobacco to Hays & Berkhed for 95c; and also Mr. Ray Foster sold to the same party for 85c; also Grider Bros. to the same company for 12c.

We are glad to say Mrs. Mattie Drago and Mr. J. A. Hardin's little boy are improving.

L. M. Homan, Ray Foster and J. A. Hardin will deliver their tobacco Monday.

Mr. Johnnie Chesser lost a horse one day last week.

Mr. Ed Sagracy sold his tobacco to Mr. Hartwell Estington. Price 95 cents.

Mr. W. P. Cheatham's school was out last Friday.

At times when you don't feel just right, when you have a bad stomach, take something right away that assist digestion, not something that will stimulate for a time, but something that will positively do the very work that the stomach performs under ordinary and normal conditions, something that will make the food digest. To do this you must take a natural digestant like Kodol For Dyspepsia. Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose digests more than 3,000 grains of good food. It is sure to afford prompt relief; it digests what you eat and is pleasant to take. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Mrs. Mary Jane Birch died Tuesday evening. La Grippe was the immediate cause of her death, although she had been in bad health for some time. She was buried on Friday in the Fairview cemetery. A very large crowd attended her funeral. She leaves six sons and four daughters to mourn her loss. Another home has been robbed of its dearest earthly ties, the church has lost a good member one that was ever ready to do her part. She was a generous woman who delighted in doing good for her neighbors. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved ones, and pray that God will bless and comfort them with the thought that their mother is not lost, but only gone to enjoy the happiness that God had in reserve for her, and they can so live that one day there will be a happy meeting with mother where partings will be no more. We miss thee from home dear mother. We miss thee from this place.

THE ROSE.

U. D. C. Entertained.

The members of the May Fair Chapter of U. D. C. were entertained by Miss Nellie Greene on Saturday, February 15.

The program was brimful of interesting things from opening to close. Mrs. Carrie Darrett presided as president during the absence of Mrs. Oscar Walker.

"Bonnie Blue" Flaga chorus by the Chapter was rendered. A spicy paper, Hunker Hill, by Mrs. Palmer McElroy was well presented and gave facts new and interesting.

Five important battles were given by Miss Myrtle Price in an excellent paper.

Mrs. Darrett read a well written paper of war reminiscences which was followed by that lively southern air Dixieland beautifully rendered by Miss Nellie Greene.

The minutes full of interest of the preceding meeting were read by Miss Anna McChord the Secretary.

Miss Elise Durrett gave a beautiful reading "Sent to Heaven" in her usual winsome manner. Refreshments were daintily served.

The May Fair Chapter is composed of enthusiastic workers and the meetings instructive and delightful so lately. The next meeting will be with Mrs. T. Scott Mayes.

Millionaire and Aristocrat.

The millionaire becomes an aristocrat when he forgets the comfort in the kitchen—Manchester Union.

When the manure is exposed to the action of the elements and the leeches allowed to drain away it rapidly decreases in value. Experts are called to determine the facts have in decided that horse manure, thrown into a large pile and subjected to the action of the elements, will lose nearly one-half of its valuable fertilizing contents in the course of six months, and that any kind of manure, even in a compact mass, when so placed that all water filtering into it quickly runs through and off under a considerable loss, though less than the former case, says a writer in American Cultivator.

Therefore, after having made all the good stable manure possible, we must see it in some way from fermentation and leaching and supplement it with commercial fertilizers after it is applied to the soil.

Humus in Orchard Soil.

The humus in the soil particles, which in turn increases its water capacity. The humus is essential for the growth of the leeches, but it is the soil. One of the most important parts that a cover crop plays is its ability to change chemically the compounds in the soil and put them in an available form for the trees. The cover crop, therefore, digests and turns over to the trees the most nutritious food it has stored.

Uses For Salt Bags.

Save your salt bags. Being stitched on a single thread, they can be readily ripped apart and when washed serve for a variety of purposes. Though strong, they are usually loosely woven, and are especially useful as strainers in the preserving season. Two medium sized ones stretched together make the best kind of a jelly bag. All will be useful as coverings for fruit or vegetables or anything that must not be covered tightly and yet require protection from the poultry shelves or in the cellar. In fact, their uses are so various that it would be difficult to enumerate them.

Mattie Sasbury.

An Uncomfortable Moment.

Perhaps the most uncomfortable moment in a man's life is that one in which he takes a seat in a box at a play and sees his employer sitting in an orchestra chair among the ordinary people.

How to Treat an Enemy.

If you don't like a man, eat oatmeal and bide your time; there will soon be something the matter with his kidneys, and his funeral procession will go by. It doesn't take long to get rid of the best of us.—Athletic Globe.

HE GAINED HIS POINT.

To Do It the Actor Spoiled the Play.

And Lost His Position.

An American actor who had toured in England was telling her experiences and related an incident that amused her. She said:

"In a play produced in the provinces there is a scene in which the hero strikes the villain, who slinks away without seeking to defend himself. One night in a large manufacturing town the young fellow who played the hero deep scorned remarked to the leading man before the curtain rose:

"I say, old chap, I've got my flannels out in front tonight with my father and mother. Now, of course they must know anything about our business, and I'm afraid
